Hi, You will get a refund as soon my PayPal account is re-established. In order to speed up the transaction process you must send your payment through Western Union Money Transfer to my name. As you see you have a new price due the occurrence, you will get a full refund. I will ship the item as soon as you have confirmed payment details without missing letters or numbers, if possible, send me the scanned paper of the wire transfer. This payment method is approved by eBay because I am unable to receive any payment at this time through PayPal. Let me know when you will be able to complete the transaction. I'll await your email and I appreciate your prompt reply. Thank you for your purchase!

Bullshit - I already paid for it through paypal and I'm not wiring money. Either Ship the Item or I'll have to dispute the sale through ebay and paypal - and give you a bad rating.
